

Title: Dupre the Swine!

Author: Concerned Citizens

Anonymous sources confirm that Lord Dupre, de facto dictator of Britannia, is the likely father of a baby soon to be born out of wedlock to an underage mother! While the girl's name is currently being withheld, it is believed likely that Dupre kept her as a domestic or other sort of long-term servant, only to cast her away from his estate upon discovering her infelicitous condition. No financial support or other aid has been rendered to the girl, who now relies upon the charity of others to survive. Many believe that Lord Dupre is no longer fit to hold a position of power, and would be wise indeed to step down.
